ATLA in Montreal!

You may Ask...

How does Partner John Leighton know the ins and outs in Montreal? It's easy. His wife Tracey was born and raised there. John and Tracey have prepared the following list of interesting sights for ATLA members and their families while visiting Montreal. Any questions? In need of information or recommendations, just see us at the Convention or, prior to arrival, contact us at

Things to do in Montreal, Canada July 13-18, 2001

Just for Laughs Comedy Festival.

For 11 days in July, Just for Laughs treats spectators to the widest array of international comedians. This world-class phenomenon has become the world's largest comedy event that includes gala performances, theater and club shows, open air venues, television specials, and an industry marketplace. Many of the shows take place during the ATLA Convention week and we highly recommend you take advantage of this great world-class festival.

Montreal Expos Major League Baseball.

The Montreal Expos meet their rivals at the Olympic Stadium. The Expos play five home games between the 13th and 18th of July - two against Tampa Bay and three against Boston. For all ticket information, call 1-800-GO-EXPOS (outside of Montreal) or 8GO-EXPOS (within the city). Tickets are also available by visiting the Olympic Stadium box office or online through the Admission Network.
